*Time, you undead silence, you creep into my ears
And I hear you speak of what I was.*

And now . . .

*You, Time, stand there waiting for me to answer,
Waiting for me to say that I am.*

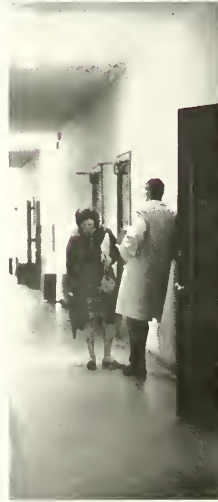

You will hear me . . .

*You will hear me speak of the fall in my days
Which formed the dreams of my winter . . .
And winter . . . Ah, winter which buried them
Beneath the snow.
And I will speak of this; you will hear me.
But I will also speak of the coming spring.*

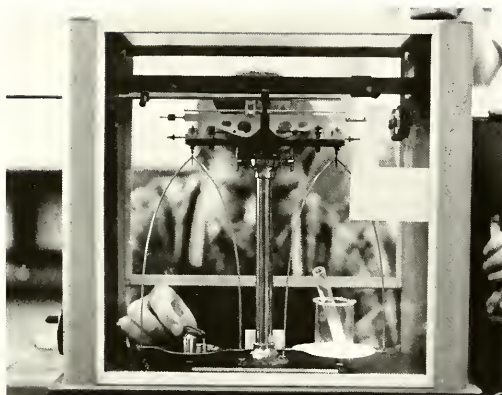

*My heart cries for the dreams of fall
Buried beneath the snow of winter, but I
Laugh for what has gone.
And the doubt of all these . . .
My God, my self, my earth, my life . . .
I lift my voice, I lift my heart,
For now with the coming spring, I am.*

*I tread the fields of fallen leaves
And I remember . . .
I remember what was the innocence which
Filled my heart and let me sing,
I sing of little things and skip to
The tune of tomorrow which will Bring dreams-come-true. I am not afraid,
No, not afraid for I can Go home, and I can look to heaven and the Blue of the sky.*

*Then my hands feel the cold of the snow,
And I do not want to remember.
I tread the snow of my doubt . . . of the little Things . . . of the big.
The eternal question comes . . .
Who am I?*

Time, you are passing me by.
 Time, you are
 Present with the bright colors . . .
 Time, you are present
 With the snow.

*All is color around me and bright.
All is white around me and blank . . . blank as the white.
A blanket of nothingness engulfs me.
I know myself alone. Where in the passing time is God?
Is His face in the color? . . .
Is His face in the white? . . . Where in passing time is Earth? Is it covered with leaves?
Is it covered with snow? . . . Where in the passing time
Have I lost you . . . Where have I lost all?
I tread fallen leaves, fallen snow, in doubt.*

*Eternal time, you know me . . . And you are waiting for me
To answer. You ask me to speak.*

I will speak of these things; I will utter a word of things

Long gone . . . for they are in my heart

But they shall fly from me into the gleaming sun of spring,

. . . upon golden wings they will fly.

And I . . . Time, who am I? . . . I am the spring and all

That is new, for I have learned from my past,

From my dreams, and from my doubts And I will tell you that God, Earth, and Myself are here . . .

Here within me now.

FALL EVENTS	68

Fall is softness . . .

A soft glow from fires . . .

Fall, and I can smell the freshly

Fallen leaves . . .

And hear the howling winds of October.

Fall, and I will carve my name in new Friendship trees . . .

And walk the campus in new shoes which

Seep with rain . . .

Fall, and there is much to do, much to See . . .

A long journey awaits me.

THE REVEREND
ROBERT G. WALKER

DEDICATION

We came together four years ago . . . We, the students,
As new babes in a college world of transition,
Waiting for our ageing of time . . . striving for that Unknown something. He too was new . . . in a way . . .

We came to know him as a builder of bridges . . . bridges
Between college and society . . . between society
And church . . . church and self.

We came to know him as a neat dark suit or a clerical
Collar . . . a pipe nodding in quiet comprehension,
. . . a brown leather chair rocked back to view the Situation from the proper perspective . . . listening
With infinite patience . . . and encouragement.

We came to know him as a laughing father . . . swinging
A child lightly in his arms . . . or perhaps,
We came to know him as a flowing white robe, quietly
Instilling within us philosophy in the Most comprehensive way . . . knowing us for what we are
. . . challenging us with what we can do.

He has asked few questions, given many answers . . .
Reproved us when we were wrong, encouraged
Us when we were right . . . nurtured our respect, earned
Our love . . .

For these four years, we, the Class of 1965, dedicate
Our HACAWA to you,

REVEREND ROBERT C. WALKER

FRESHMEN

The Fall in my days is my beginning.
It is the time in my life for me
To do the things I
Have dreamed of doing.
I am no longer a child.
I come and I look and I wonder and I think . . . sometimes . . .
For it is easy for me to laugh and easy to cry . . .
To love is easy . . .
And to dance and to sing . . .
Bright is the fall in my days.
Brighter than all that I have ever known before . . .
The world is leaves and color . . .
And there is plenty of time.

ADMINISTRATION AND FACULTY

I have stared you in the face perhaps to defy . . .
Yet I was looking for something.
If you gave the answer, I handed you what praise I could offer without letting you think I had learned it from you.
Days upon days you stood before me offering what you thought was the most important thing upon earth.
I dream of greater things . . .
But you, you know me . . . all of me
I am the student to whom your life is dedicated . . . you should know me.
Perhaps I do defy what you say . . .
Then again it could be that it is not from your mouth that the wisdom of civilization is transferred to me . . .
But it is for your eyes that I offer you praise.
I could write and read and understand long before I stared into your face . . . or heard your words . . .
But I could not learn without you or I would not be here . . .
Words of names, places, theories mean nothing . . .
But faith, hope, and life mean all . . .
I need you to give me these and you do . . . perhaps . . .
Or you would not be here.

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

"The ever whirling wheele of Change, the which all mortall things doth sway."

(Spenser in The Faerie Queen.)

graduation—how swiftly the course is run and the position shifted—begun with pilgrims who started earlier, soon finished with others who arrived later—almost imperceptibly the transformation has occurred in self and in surroundings, yet so obvious as one beholds in retrospect these
"enchanted miracles of change"
without which progress could never be.

In the flux of this pursuit of truth and perfection, always haunted with the universal human yearning for something permanent and enduring, hope anchors in the perfect One who is the same yesterday, today, and forever.

PROFESSIONALS

A group of students with a destination . . .

To long white halls of hospitals . . .

And the smell of antiseptics . . .

Where the business of life is carried on.

To the windowed offices with machines that add, subtract, calculate . . .

All that goes on in the world of business . . .

In the world of the secretary.

Learning "the business of life," Student Nurse learns to assist in operation.

NURSES

Within the college walls, our nursing program yearly progresses. Two years at L. R. . . then on to two years of long clinical training at Grace Hospital in Morganton . . . Long, hot lab hours . . . the smell of formaldehyde . . . the lonely midnight halls . . . and finally the cherished B.S. and R.N.

COMMERCIAL CLASS

We come for one short year to taste of college life . . .
A life of long registration lines . . .
Of classes . . . and of parties . . .
Of shorthand labs and printer's ink . . .
Of dorm life . . . or of the life of the commuter . . . of quarter exams and trying professors . . . of job applications.

It is a year of fun . . . and of work
. . . of friends . . . and memories, before we face our world of finance and business.

GREEKS

I am the freshman and to me it is as a fragrance of a dream . . .
Destined for the unity of spirits of which I Must become a part . . . And I, the sophomore, find it a Saturday Experience . . . A maker of memories . . .
Then I, the junior, see a composite of changing faces . . . the Raw fiber of my foolishness . . . And now
I, the senior . . . know it as a paradox full blown . . . And I find Myself walking away to seek the essence of the dream.

INTERFRATERNITY COUNCIL

Serving as the ruling body for the four social fraternities on campus, the Interfraternity Council coordinates activities and promotes a better understanding among these organizations. At Christmas the Council sponsored a party for Brookford school children. The spring brought co-sponsorship with Panhellenic Council of the Presentation Ball and the Step-Sing.

The 1964-65 edition of Tau Kappa Epsilon fraternity has been one of expanding prosperity and interests. A major development has been the acquiring of a cabin for social and fraternal functions. Tau Kappa Epsilon captured the football intramural championship by defeating Theta Chi fraternity in the second playoff contest 20-14. During the Christmas season, the brothers participated in helping the Empty Stocking Fund campaign by gathering toys and donations for needy families. Serenades, contests, and the development of the best pledge class ever, has helped to round out a very successful season for the brothers of Tau Kappa Epsilon.

Winter and the full moon . . .
Moon above me as I walk through
The snow of winter . . .
I strain to hear my steps in frozen
Ground and . . .
Look up to catch a smile among the Myriad of faces.
Winter and cold . . .
I wrap my coat tightly around me and
Hold on to what is mine . . .
Tight in my arms.
My step is slow . . . as winter is slow . . .
But thoughts of warm fires . . .
Kindle hope . . . hope of the Spring to come.

SOPHOMORES

I have returned.
Something has changed . . .
The grass, the stone, the buildings, the walls, the trees . . .
They are still here.
What has changed?
They are older . . . they are not new . . .
That is what has changed.
Why have I returned to something old . . . why am I here?
Why am I here . . . here . . . here?
The wind howls outside my window and the whistle . . .
The whistle of the train haunts my sleep.
The beginning of winter is near . . .
It is a winter wind . . .
And a lonely sound of a train.

ACTIVITIES

Among the college there is a group of privileged Personalities who have won for themselves
The status of "the active." It is an intoxicating
Existence in this frenzied life . . .
An existence which sometimes demands the sacrifice of time Worthwhile . . . As if there is not Enough to do being together . . . We must do things Together.

STUDENT GOVERNMENT

MARK COOPER, Vice-President

ANN BAKER, Secretary

LARRY YODER, President

JOHNNIE SCHRUM, Treasurer

Student Government—government of the students, by the students, and for the students,—has seen a year well led by the four elected officers. The more important part of their year is often left untold, written between the lines—the frustration of being Lenoir Rhyne's representative self-government, of being the discipliner of thirteen hundred diverse voices. It is a formidable job, and often unrewarding; but a job that has been well done.

STUDENT CABINET

BUDGET BOARD

Parrish, Misenheimer, Cromer, Smith, Williams, Schrum.

Executive Committee: Schrum, Cooper, Pugh, Baker, Bangle, Yoder.

Determining the co-curricular participation and sponsoring and correlating activities are only a few of the functions of Student Cabinet. Composed of the four officers of the Student Body, the four representatives from each of the four academic classes, one representative from the one-year commercial class, and three ex-officio members, Student Cabinet functions with the highest student authority in legislative matters.

STUDENT COMMISSION

Considering, instigating, and changing student policies is the concern of Student Commission. Here it is that recommendations concerning changes and additions to The Cub begin. All the decisions of this group of dormitory and day student representatives are sent to Student Cabinet for approval. A major study of the Hall Councilor system and subsequent revisions has accompanied the regular agenda of dormitory, campus policy and day student problems. As well as filling a legislative capacity, Student Commission becomes a court to hear appeals from lower judicial bodies.

Seated: Cromer, Cooper, Dean Duncan, Williams. Standing: Nordman, Hoyle, Herman, McEntire, Riley, Punch.

STUDENT COURT

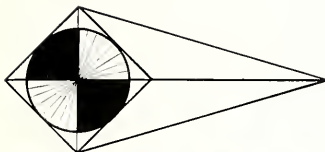

Friday, Yoder, Moose, Qualls, Summers.

Judicial cases involving students charged with one of the major offenses, as listed in The Cub, are heard by Student Court. This highest court on campus is composed of six student representatives, plus the Student Body President as presiding officer.

PUBLICATIONS

Supervising the overall activities of the publications on campus, the Student Publications Committee is composed of both students and faculty. On this committee are the editors and business managers of both the Lenoir Rhynean and HACAWA, as student representatives. In addition to supervising publication activities, the group strives to maintain the necessary publications for the Lenoir Rhyne campus and prepares the publication heads for the following year.

Cromer College Center — focal point on the campus.

CROMER COLLEGE CENTER

The College Center in its second year of existence has a program designed to provide quality and diversity. Lectures, concerts, meetings, dances, and informal "get-togethers" kept the Center in full operation. The Galaxies, Derby Day, the movies, the Lettermen, the Jazz Concert, the Christmas Dance, Spring Weekend, Arts Festival, and John Howard Griffin—all were a part of this program. The purpose of both the Center and the program continued to draw the separate and diverse interests of individual students into a common area where they could be shared, and into an area where the student could develop as an individual.

PROGRAM BOARD

ED KETCHIE, Chairman

Responsible for conducting a continuous program in the College Center, the Program Board functions in directing the five Center committees and the activities within the College Center.

Composed of representatives from Cabinet, representatives chosen by the previous Program Board, by the director of the Center, a faculty adviser, and the Dean of Students, the Program Board functions as a sphere of unity within the College Center—a sphere uniting day and dorm students; faculty and student.

The Lenoir Rhynean has served Lenoir Rhyne Students through stress and strife and pride and prosperity for semester after semester for nearly fifty years. This vital student organ has expanded its reach and serves now as an important communication media for those outside the college family as well as those on campus. Subscriptions are at an all-time high, advertising is steadily increasing, and six-page issues are not infrequent. One of the largest staffs ever, under the direction of editor Mike Olson, slave each week to put out one of the top small college weeklies in the Southeast. Sincere dedication . . . concern for the truth and for the student . . . These are integral parts of every issue of the Lenoir Rhynean.

HACAWA

The school year 1964-1965 has been a hectic year . . . a year of scheduling and rescheduling . . . a year of late hours, discarded ideas, and omitted pages. Somehow, amid disappointments and distractions, the spring aspirations became more and more difficult to fulfill. We, as Co-editors, have tried to produce a book representative of the Lenoir Rhyne experience . . . your experience . . . a goal that could only be sought, never completely achieved.

To those of our staff who worked through frustration and anxiety . . . who donated time and effort, we would like to give a special thanks. To the Board of Editors, to the Business Staff, to Jim and Ed, to Barry and Wayne, to Mr. Norris, Mr. Livengood, Miss Barger, Mr. Baker, and Mr. Whitesides, and most of all to Mr. Price Coursey —our personal thanks. You who have shared in our work, we would also like to share in our pride.

A CAPPELLA CHOIR

Rehearse . . . rehearse . . . rehearse . . . three times weekly, so that the Choir can be ready for the "Big Event" of spring, the "Tour" . . . then there are sectional rehearsals, new music (How intricate!) . . . Old music (How familiar!) . . . "Fess" Lee, saying, "Now why don't you sing it like that all the time?" . . . Christmas Concert . . . crowded buses, new churches, strangers who soon become friends as hosts . . . the "Big City," New York (What fun!) . . . that long ride home to Hickory, tired but happy, for the music had momentarily changed people's lives . . . sixty voices, sixty people, but one Choir . . . It's hard, but it's worth it.

PROFESSOR RUSSELL BROWN
Forensics Coach

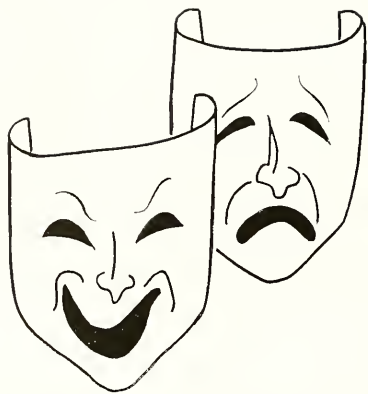

FORENSICS

The Lenoir Rhyne debaters started out this season, under the training and guidance of Professor Bud Brown, to demonstrate the new-found strength gained since last year. The debaters traveled to Appalachian, Emory, Florida State, West Georgia, and finally entered L.R.C.'s own South Atlantic Forensic Tournament to fight the question: Resolved: The Federal Govt. should establish a program of public works for the unemployed. Honors received included Bill Mauney's "Outstanding Speaker" award at the S.A.F. Tournament, and George Coles and Ken Joines' second place trophy at Appalachian.

Most remembered about the debaters' season are not just the victories, but the gay cavalier spirit of Prof. Brown and the wisecracks of that "lovable" Prof. Zimmerman—wisecracks which made the nervousness of the impending debates more tolerable.

The circus ring — signifying the boundaries of the world — stands out as the most well designed set for the Playmaker production, J. B.

Savannah Scarborough, Larry Yoder, Jane Carter, and Doug Everhart work to make another successful Playmaker production: "A Midsummer Night's Dream."

Drama and play-making are an integral part of any college campus. The Lenoir Rhyne Playmakers support this phase of our college life and enrich the college community with their work on and around the stage. These are people who experience hard and long hours of sometimes monotonous work and love it. There are those moments when tensions mount, tempers shorten, and nothing seems to run smoothly. But there is some kind of overwhelming excitement about working around a stage that overbalances all these bad moments. To all who take part in producing a play comes a feeling of pride and satisfaction after the job is done, and done well.

This year the enthusiasm and interest of the Playmakers has surged forth, and they have not been afraid to venture into more challenging material. Under the capable leadership of Sam Baker, director, and Richard Zimmerman, technical director, the Playmakers have experienced a run of successes in their productions of SEE HOW THEY RUN, "J. B." and A MIDSUMMER NIGHT'S DREAM.

JUNIORS

I have come home again.
I'll buy some more books and listen to a few more words.
My eyes are firmly set on next year . . .
Right now I believe that I will just
Take it nice and easy.
But what is it that keeps on asking . . . asking me why?
Snow falling . . . time moving . . . leaving me.
I must say all that I can say . . . do all that I can do . . .
See all that I can see . . .
God . . . Earth . . . Myself . . . I cannot answer.
Don't leave me alone . . .
I am alone . . . alone with myself.
The snow is melting . . .
It is the beginning of Spring.

FOOTBALL

Football season for Lenoir Rhyne College in 1964 was one of trial and error, of inexperience and determination. Under the rebuilding system of Head Coach Hanley Painter, the team compiled a 3-6-1 record. Even though the overall record was not in itself impressive, the Bears still had a chance for the Carolina Conference Crown right till the end of the season. All the players displayed the fine spirit and determination that is needed to make a successful season.

L. R. WOFFORD

Lenoir Rhyne opened their season at Wofford College, in Spartanburg. First-game problems arose for the Bears and they were defeated by a 10-0 score. Lenoir Rhyne out-played the Terriers and had several opportunities to score, but couldn't capitalize on them. It was evident that the Bears were weak in some plays, but determination and drive would carry them into the weeks ahead. A loss far greater than the game itself was that of All-Conference Tackle, Andre Correll, who was injured in the first half.

Herb Arteaga (39) tackles Wofford back for a loss, while Al Carelli (58) comes to his aid.

Playing for the Conference Championship at Burlington, the Bears took the opening kick-off and drove 64 yards to paydirt. They held the Elon Christians time and again until late in the second period when Elon pushed over a touchdown for a tie, the final score being 7-7.

After three consecutive home games, the Bears flew to the campus of Southwestern Louisiana for a Friday night game. Even though the Bears usually fare quite well in intersectional games, they were defeated by a 20-6 score.

Thus, it was in '64, but, though the L. R. College football team experienced a slow season, they gave plenty of evidence that the price of "Bear Meat" will be extremely high in future years.

BASKETBALL

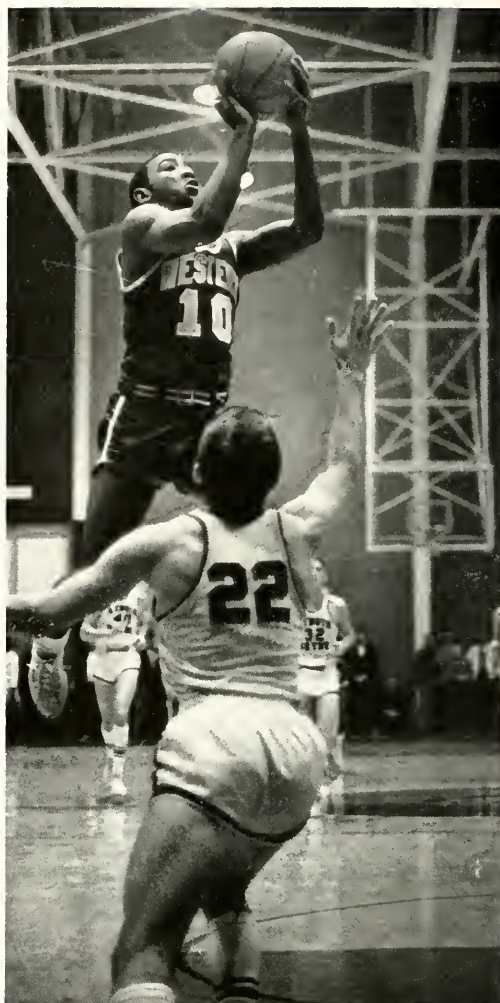

The Lenoir Rhyne Bears started their 1964-65 basketball season at a slow pace. They won only three of five starts and future success looked doubtful. However, the usual spirit that carries most L. R. teams throughout the season, came alive and the Bears were off. The Sons of the Savage Seven played inspired ball and with a few more breaks could have improved their record of 17 and 8.

They lost no less than four games by a single point margin. It was these decisions which lifted the Carolinas Conference Championship from the Bears' heads.

Ed Miastkowski (30) and Aubrey Cochran (32) battle for a rebound.

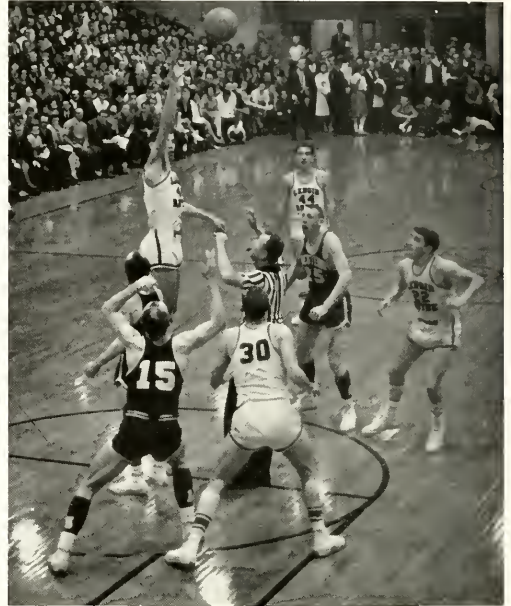

Under the fine coaching of Bill Wells the Bears handled the toughest opponents of the conference night after night. They won the Holiday Tournament and beat nationally ranked High Point in overtime. The squad found superior basketball in co-captains Neill McGeachy and Ed Miastkowski, who game after game led the Bears in scoring and rebounding. A commendable performance was turned in by big George Dechan who carried the Bears in the latter part of the season. Sophomore guard Frank Bau and Freshman Mark Lamoreaux provided exciting moments throughout the season with their hustle and desire. Another outstanding point of the season was the bench strength of the Bears. Aubrey Cochran and David Wells time and again came off the bench to spark rallies in close games.

Neill McGeachy (22) goes for two points against Elon.

George Deehan (50) goes for a layup against Western Carolina.

Mark Lamoreaux controls tap in the Western Carolina game.

Ed Miestowski drives for field goal against Catawba.

With the statistics finally tallied Ed Miestowski led the scoring with a 21.6 average while Neill McGeachy followed with a 13.6 average. The rebounding department was headed by Lamoreaux with a 9.7 average per game. Through the heartbreak and happiness of the season it was evident that the Bears will build another fine team in the years to come. The bench is loaded with fine talent and two starters will also return. Once again the Conference Crown will come back to the Bears and remain for a long time.

BASEBALL

The Lenoir Rhyne College baseball team finished the 1964 season with a 4-11 record. Though it was a disappointing season, the charges of Coach Walter Cornwell had some bright spots. Junior Tom Brown led the team in hitting for the second consecutive year with a .411 average. He was a standout also from his catching position and was field general for the Bears. Brennan Elliott also had a fine season and hit .340 while scoring 10 runs. Inexperience hurt Lenoir Rhyne in many positions as did an ineffective defense. The leading pitcher was Barry Gibson who compiled a 2-2 record. With many returning players the 1965 season should be one of promise for the Bears.

TRACK

The Lenoir Rhyne track team experienced another fine season in 1964. Under the highly capable Norman Punch, the Bears copped their fifth consecutive title in District 26.

The team compiled an overall record of 4 first places, 2 second places, 2 third places and one fourth place in team meets.

The point getters for the Red and Black cindermen included Craig Wardlaw, Fran Lambert, Glenn Morrison, and Mike Campbell. Wardlaw and Lambert headed the running events while Morrison was tops in the field events.

Mike Campbell, the Spring Sports Athlete of the Year, excelled in both track and field events.

As for 1965 the Bears have a fine nucleus around Campbell and should be in for another championship season.

GOD, EARTH, AND MYSELF ARE HERE . . .
HERE WITHIN ME NOW.

(United Nation's Pictures)

And they said to me . . .
 Truth will make you free . . .
 Seek and you will find . . .
 Make the world well.
 And I said to them . . .
 What is truth and by whose measure?
 Where will I seek and by what measure?
 How will I make the world well?

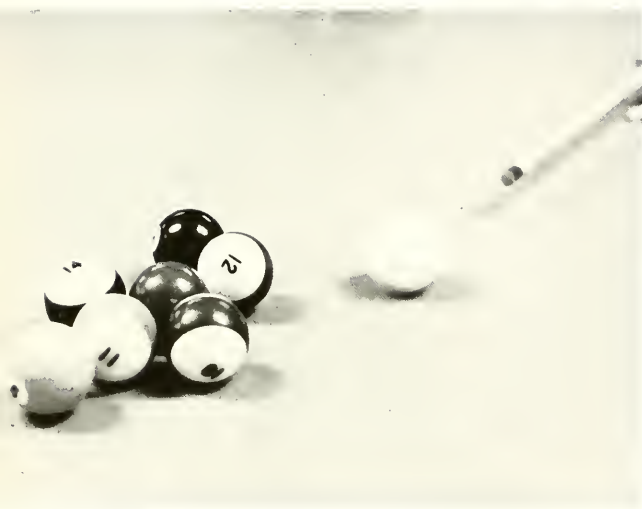

(World Wide Photos)

And they said to me . . .
Truth is your choosing . . .
Seek where you will . . .
Your time will come . . .
But make the world well.
And I said to them . . .
Truth is myself . . .
My time is here . . .
I have made my world well.

But yet another word I hear.
Yes . . .
You have found your truth . . .
Your time is here . . .
You have made your world well.
But take these . . .
your truth, your time, your world.
Others beg of you to find them
in your world.
Help them to seek . . .
show them your truth . . .
Share with them your efforts.

(World Wide Photos)

And together — with God's help . . . we . . .
We will make our world well . . .
And my son . . .
My daughter . . .
This time is yet to come.

Time passed as the leaf of fall . . .
As the snow of winter . . .
And as the flower of spring will pass.
And I . . .
Strange . . .
But it lures me on.

Up...

BUT ONE!

In the past 20 years alone, most cost-of-living items have just about doubled in price . . .

Except for electricity, which has actually come down!

Fact! — Since 1943, the average cost of a kilowatt hour to Duke Power residential customers has dropped more than one-third. In that same period, the use of electricity has increased over 4 times, while the standard of living has gone up correspondingly.

It's truer today than ever before . . . you live better, for less, electrically.
